

As I have outlined in my “ What I Do ” section, no. I do not predict the winning lottery numbers, winning horses, sports games results or provide any information on any form of gambling. My guides are opposed to gambling. I respect their position and I will not answer questions relating to gambling.

I have however, provided information to people about specific book titles or the names of places that can assist them.