

Guided tours look inside our minds

ASHGROVE psychic profiler Julianna Suranyi is teaching westsiders how to develop their intuition and work with their spirit guides.

From her Ashgrove West studio, Ms Suranyi is beginning another Guidance and Intuitive Intelligence Development (GIID) course from May 24.

She will also teach psychic reading in a course for the first time for those who want to develop their psychic abilities.

Ms Suranyi, who has just recorded a television pilot with TPD Media, said she was asked by people exploring their intuition and spirituality how they could tell the difference between logical thoughts and intuition.

"We are constantly taught to question everything in life, which is healthy, but I really do believe that information is power and that gaining knowledge in areas we are unsure of allows us to make considered choices."

The GIID course runs from May 24 each fortnight
